COVID-19 Webinar: Cal/OSHA and the Employer, What You Need to Know

Wednesday, April 29, 2020

9:00 AM to 10:30 AM

In these unprecedented times in our modern age with the pestilence of COVID-19 continuing to surge throughout California and our country, it is important for employers to understand exactly what their responsibilities are with respect to employee health and safety.

Many companies in industries that have been deemed to be essential have employees working and though there are some industries that allow for employees to be able to work remotely, that is not the case for everyone. So, what are your responsibilities if you are one of those employers where having employees working remotely is not an option? While there are no easy answers and what we know changes almost daily Cal/OSHA has regulations that come into play. Please join us for this 90-minute webinar as Mr. Dan Leiner guides us through some of what we need to know and do as employers.

If you have any questions or to register please contact Ms. Susie Rodriguez at 805.585.6797 or via email at srodriguez@tolmanandwiker.com

For additional info visit our seminars listing online at: <http://tolmanandwiker.com/resources/>

We are working on reformatting our seminars into webinars and will send out invitations on an ongoing basis. We will be using RingCentral for our webinars.

COVID 19 topics to include:

- What safety regulation(s) might be triggered?
- What are the employer's responsibilities with respect to the regulation(s)?
- What if we cannot maintain at least 6 feet distance between employees?
- Are we required to provide them N95?

Guest Speaker:

MR. DAN LEINER

Area Manager, Cal/OSHA Consultation Dan holds both B.S. & Master of Science degrees in Environmental and Occupational Health from California State University, Northridge.
