

Work Comp Update: Executive Order N-62-20 COVID-19 Presumption

Wednesday, May 27, 2020
9:00 A.M. to 10:30 A.M.

Ms. Elizabeth Barravecchia, Esq. of Hanna, Brophy, MacLean, McAleer, & Jensen LLP will provide you with an update on how to handle the new Executive Order regarding the presumption that an employee's COVID-19 diagnosis is work-related.

Participants will learn more about the following topics:

- What this Executive Order means
- What the requirements are for an employee to qualify for this presumption
- How an employer/insurance carrier can rebut this presumption to include what happens if the presumption does not apply
- The dates this Executive Order covers to include the interplay between the date of the confirmed diagnosis and the date the DWC-1 is filed
- How the Executive Order effects sick leave as it pertains to workers' compensation benefits
- What benefits an employee may be entitled to as a result of this Executive Order

This is a Free webinar.
We look forward to hearing from you.

We are working on reformatting our seminars into webinars and will send out invitations on an ongoing basis.
